

Social Circus Myanmar presents

Circus Play Project | โครงการ เล่นด้วยกัน | အတူတူကစားမယ်

Hello,

We want to tell you about the extraordinary Circus Play Project starting soon on the Thai-Myanmar border and ask for your help.

Since 2014 Social Circus Myanmar delivered workshops in Yangon every dry season until Feb. 2020. That's a lot of fun and new skills! We worked with thousands of young people from across all social, ethnic, religious communities. The 2021 military coup prevents our return to Myanmar. So we're going to the Thai border town of Mae Sot, where thousands of people are living in very difficult conditions after escaping the ongoing situation in Myanmar.

Working with Help Without Frontiers, which provides education and support to children and communities in more than a dozen locations around Mae Sot, Circus Play workshops will bring new skills and fun to children and young adults from Myanmar and the Thai community, We'll be making props locally and training a group of young adults as Circus Play tutors so they can continue to play and teach others ongoing.

You can help us to make this exciting project a great success. We need to raise $5000 now to cover some of the project costs including transport for workshops, prop-making, per diems for trainee tutors and logistics costs.

"This is a great idea – it'll help the children's wellbeing and give them an alternative to the dire circumstances in which they are living."

– Sally Thompson, former executive director of The Border Consortium.

There's lots more information about the project on our website circusplay.org. Any help you can offer will be greatly appreciated.

All the best,

Jude Smith, Circus Play Fundraiser.
